

WHOLESALE PRICE LIST

2023 - 2024

Nov/23

SPECIES	DESCRIPTION	PROVENANCE ZONE	HEIGHT (cm)	QUANTITY		AVAILABILITY	Wet Sites	Light Soils	Heavy Soils	Acid Soils	Neutral Soils	Exposed Sites	Hedging
				100+	1000+
				Each (p) + VAT
Alnus glutinosa	ALDER	Likes wet ground, Nitrogen fixing, coppices well. Young growth not usually eaten by deer. Very vigorous on wet ground. Good firewood, makes excellent charcoal.	North Argyll	15-30	58	35	✓	•
			(zone 105/106)	30-60	65	39	✓
				60-90	75	45	✓
Betula pendula	SILVER BIRCH	Suitable for drier sites, windfirm, frost hardy and exposure tolerant. Pendulous or weeping habit.	Ayrshire	20-40	58	35	X	•
			(zone 107)	40-60	65	39	L
Betula pubescens	DOWNY BIRCH	Suitable for wet sites, windfirm, frost hardy and exposure tolerant. Beautiful white bark in young trees. Not as pendulous habit as Silver Birch (Bet. Pendula). A true pioneer species.	North Argyll	15-30	58	35	✓	•
			(zone 105/106)	30-60	65	39	✓
				60-90	75	45	✓
Corylus avellana	HAZEL	Hardy shrub, coppices easily producing straight poles/handles with high conservation value. Good shelter for wildlife. Edible nuts in autumn.	North Argyll	15-30	195	75	✓	•					✓
			(zone 106)	30-60	225	98	✓
Crataegus monogyna	HAWTHORN	Excellent hedging plant, attractive and hardy small tree. Fruits much loved by resident and migrating birds.	North Argyll	15-30	58	35	✓	•					✓
			(zone 106)	30-60	65	39	✓						✓
				60-90	75	45	✓						✓
Juniperus communis	JUNIPER	Evergreen shrub with both upright and prostrate forms (please specify).	Argyll (106) (c+1)	prostrate & upright	150	89	L	•
Pinus sylvestris	SCOTS PINE	The native caledonian pine, this seed collected from the ancient trees of Blackmount, Tyndrum.	Blackmount	10-20	60	36	✓	•
			(SW 106)	20-40	67	40	✓
Populus tremula	Aspen	Native poplar - suckers vigorously grown in cells from root cuttings	Argyll (106)		195	-	X	•
			(c+0)		195	-	X
Prunus avium	GEAN /WILD CHERRY	Likes fertile soils, frost hardy but not high exposure tolerant. White flowers in the spring, edible red/black cherries	North Argyll	15-30	60	42	X
			(zone 106)	30-60	70	48	X
Prunus padus	BIRD CHERRY	Likes fertile soils, frost hardy small tree but not exposure tolerant. White sprigs of flowers in the spring, and small black cherries attract birds in July. in summer. Large tree with fine timber.	North Argyll	15-30	60	42	X	•
			(zone 106)	30-60	70	48	X
Prunus spinosa	SLOE	Sloe, or Blackthorn, is a small attractive thorny shrub, good for hedging with Hawthorn. Purple Sloes used for Sloe Gin.	North Argyll	15-30	58	35	✓	•					✓
			(zone 106)	30-60	65	39	✓						✓
				60-90	75	45	✓						✓
Quercus robur	PEDUNCULATE OAK	Both Oak species found in the West coast, also as hybrids. Coppices freely, very high	Argyll Z106	15-30	73	44	✓	•
				20-40	82	49	✓
			Tayside Z203	30-60	75	52	✓
Rosa canina	DOG ROSE	Native roses, pink/white flowers and red rosehips.	North Argyll	15-30	195	75	✓	•					✓
Rosa pimpinellifolia	BURNET ROSE	Good addition to wild hedges.	(zone 106)	30-60	225	98	✓						✓
Salix cineria	GREY WILLOW	Tolerate wet sites and exposure. Very high conservation value, coppice well with fast regrowth. Grey Willow is a larger form, Eared being more shrubby. Great shelter/nurse tree.	North Argyll	15-30	58	35	✓	•
			(zone 106)	30-60	65	39	✓
				60-90	75	45	✓
Sorbus aucuparia	ROWAN	A small attractive woodland edge tree with high conservation value.	Pitlochry	20-40	60	36	X	•
			(zone 202)	40-60	65	39	X
Ulmus glabra	WYCH ELM	Tolerates exposure & salt spray.	North Argyll	15-30	60	65	✓
			(zone 106)	30-60	70	85	✓

X: Sold Out
 L: Limited availability
 ✓: Available

All Prices ex- VAT and Delivery

For quantities less than 100 per species: PLEASE ASK FOR A QUOTE